"I walked home, buoyant and inspired (with a lovingly wrapped breakfast roll in hand). Noting plans in my diary to reconnect with people I had just met, and to come back to the centre for events next week and next month. I felt surprised by how enriching and valuable my first visit to VPCC had been."

VPCC hosted: community meals and cultural dinners, playgroups, recovery support groups, inclusive music learning, Mandarin, Noongar and French classes, abacus lessons, Indigenous after school clubs, LEGO league, dancing in the dark, youth groups, Sunday schools, games nights, TED talk meet ups, a queer social group, arts therapy, mental health training, parenting and domestic violence seminars, aged care support, accessible social sports, dance groups, a science festival, theatre performances, art and craft sessions, wildlife education, yoga, urban waste workshops, a community choir and concerts.

"The VPCC is a bright, clean, safe and inclusive space. It has so many amenities and the access to outside is very handy. The staff are super helpful and warm. It was the perfect place to run group programs for children in the community"
